

BENEFITS OF THE ITED PROGRAM

1. Family Involvement

Since the family is the core of the ITED Program, it ensures that the family stays committed in supporting their child's development. It also paves way for the teacher to create a strong and trusting relationship between teachers, families, and the community they are in.

2. Developmentally Appropriate Care

One of the main highlights of the ITED Program is capacitating parents in the proper care of their child. This means that the program ensures that the parents have access to information regarding developmentally appropriate parenting practices.

3. Creating a Safe, Caring, and Play Friendly Environment

Children thrive when they are in an environment that is safe and assures their freedom to play and explore. In line with this, the ITED Program teaches parents to foster a home environment where they can safely play and explore.

4. Fostering Brain Development

Early childhood experiences are important for brain development. A developing brain needs proper stimulation through positive experiences that are nurtured by their families. Thus, being able to be enrolled in the ITED Program helps families assure the proper development of the child in their care.

5. Integrated Delivery of Service

The ITED Program does not only focus on early stimulation and care. Through the Family Support Program, Child Development Teachers/Workers may invite resource persons that are experts in the field of health, nutrition, child protection, and parenting. The program also serves as a venue to advocate available programs and services for children 0 - 2.11 years old and their families.
