As some areas in the country suspend on-site classes due to high heat index levels, the ECCD Council reiterates the previously released Advisory No. 1, Series of 2023 stating that in situations where centers are available but temporarily inaccessible due to closure brought about by disasters, health and emergencies, Child Development Centers and Learning Centers are advised to implement Center-Based Programs Implemented in Alternative Venues (CBPAV) to ensure continuity of learning.

The Local Government Units are advised to assess the current weather situations in their localities and determine the most appropriate learning modality as deemed necessary.

For your information and guidance.
